

Civil Strife Breaks Out In Argentina As Cabinet Quits

By LAWRENCE F. STUNTZ
Buenos Aires, Oct. 13 (AP)—Argentina was virtually without a government today in a political crisis which had exploded into open civil strife in downtown Buenos Aires last night.

Gun fighting involving police, nationalists and internationalists killed one man and left 35 wounded, including six policemen.

After the entire cabinet with the exception of the army and navy ministers resigned yesterday, the army announced it had the resignation of President Edelmiro Farrell "for use at any moment."

Today the only authority remaining was that of the army, navy and the two holdovers from the fallen government, Minister of War Gen. Eduardo J. Avalos and Minister of the Marine Rear Admiral Hector Vernengo Lima.

Bar Fighting News
The police, apparently acting autonomously for the time being, forbade newspapers to publish news of the street fighting. However, they were permitted to mention the 12-hour wait of thousands of persons in front of the army club yesterday while generals, admirals, and civil leaders inside debated the future of the country.

It was after this debate broke up without results that the firing began. Who began it was uncertain but at its height police fired on the crowd. Individuals in the crowd returned their fire, and a group of unidentified civilians—perhaps nationalists—aided police by shooting into the massed thousands.

The fighting spread to other parts of the city. Horses with empty saddles galloped through the streets and dead horses lay among the wounded on the plaza before the army club.

Open Outbreak
In the city of Santa Fe there was an openly nationalist outbreak when nationalists and labor ministry employees surrounded the newspaper Ellitoral and shouted "Viva Peron." Col. Juan Peron, vice president and strong man in the Farrell government, was overthrown by the military in an act which precipitated the present crisis.

Police finally disclosed the demonstrators and permitted distribution of the newspaper.

Peron himself was reliably reported to be aboard a navy ship in the harbor.

After yesterday's meeting in the army club, Gen. Orlando Peluffo announced the civilians had agreed to cooperate with Farrell to form a new government if the university professors gave their approval.

The civilians want Farrell to resign formally and deliver power to the supreme court. When the citizens learned that no decision had been made at the meeting, the fighting began.

VET OF PACIFIC
DUTY IS HOME

Victor V. Wagaman, AMM 1/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wagaman, Hanover R. 4, who served aboard the carrier Essex during the battle off Okinawa in which the big Jap battleship Yamato was sunk, is spending a 60-day leave at his home in lower Adams county. He received 30 days' rehabilitation leave and an additional 30 days for reenlistment in the navy.

He enlisted first while attending Delone Catholic high school in 1941 and after graduating reported to Newport, R. I., for boot training. Then he attended a trade school at Jacksonville, Fla., for five months, 10 months in an advanced carrier training group at Norfolk and three months at Cecil and Lee Fields in an operational training unit. Next he went to the Pacific theater where he spent six months in C.A.S.U. 31 at Hilo, Hawaii.

As a passenger on the ill-fated Franklin he went to Ulithi atoll where he was transferred to the Essex, serving on that vessel for six months and participated in raids on the Jap homeland including the Tokyo area on August 14.

He wears the Good Conduct medal, Asiatic-Pacific, American Defense and Philippine Liberation ribbons.

Two brothers remain on duty in the Pacific area. They are Mello P., AMM 3/c on Saipan, and Pfc. Francis Z., on Okinawa.

Another brother, Peter Dominic, AMM 1/c, lost his life in a plane crash August 8, 1943, at Miami, Fla., after serving more than three years of his enlistment.

Internal Injuries Cause Of Death

C. S. Forry, deputy coroner of York county, said this morning that X-rays taken at the Hanover hospital revealed that the death of Mrs. Sylvia May Bushey, 60, York Springs R. 1, who died Friday morning, was caused by internal injuries. Mrs. Bushey was injured in an automobile accident last Saturday near her home. Her husband was fatally injured in the same accident.

Mr. Forry also stated that no inquest will be held.

FIVE INJURED IN TRAFFIC MISHAP
FRIDAY EVENING

Five persons were injured, two of whom remained today as patients in the Warner hospital in an automobile collision two miles north of here on the Biglerville road at 6:15 o'clock Friday evening. Damage to the two cars involved was estimated at about $800.

The collision occurred while W. C. Hanawalt, Gettysburg R. 3, and 333 Baltimore street, was driving north in a sedan accompanied by his wife, and Mrs. Grace A. Graham, 33, Biglerville, was traveling south. In the Graham sedan were the driver's husband, Roland, and their two-year-old son, Richard.

Mr. Graham was admitted to the hospital suffering from possible internal injuries and contusions of the scalp and lacerations of the skull. The son, also a hospital patient, received a cut on the scalp. Mrs. Graham escaped with contusions of the legs.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hanawalt received brush burns and bruises and were treated at the hospital.

State police who investigated said that Hanawalt's car was over on the wrong side of the highway when the left fronts of the two machines collided. Mr. Hanawalt told the investigators that something "hit" his car and caused it to go over to the left side of the road before it struck the Graham machine.

GROUP FORMED
BY SEMINARY

The Gettysburg Theological seminary was the host to a number of the friends of the seminary at a dinner in Trinity Lutheran church, Chambersburg, Thursday evening.

Following the dinner, the gathering was in charge of Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the institution. The chairman showed the architect's drawing of the new library building which is to be constructed immediately on the spacious seminary campus just across from the present administration building. The new library will care for more than one hundred thousand volumes and reading rooms both for private study and research and also for group reading. The cost of the building will approximate $150,000 and is being raised during the last quarter of this year by the churches of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church.

The field secretary, Rev. Howard McCarney, was also present and spoke on the expansion program of the seminary and the recruiting of young men for the gospel ministry. There was a general discussion on the entire program of the seminary.

At the suggestion of Dr. Wentz, the guests present formed the ninth Friends of Gettysburg Seminary Chapter with the following officers: President, Dr. Clarence A. Neal; vice president, J. P. Detwiler, Marion; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Roderic Senft. The Rev. Raymond L. Markley and Mrs. E. Koontz Helwig were elected to serve with the above officers as an executive committee. The purpose of the organization is to relate the work of our seminary more closely to the congregation in this area.

The dinner was prepared and served by the Ladies' Aid society of Trinity church.

Japs Approved Cannibalism
But Executed Nips If They
Feasted On Their Own Dead

Tokyo, Oct. 13 (AP)—Japanese army orders approved cannibalism among Japanese troops, if they ate the flesh of Allied dead—but they were put to death if they feasted on their fallen comrades.

This was announced, with documentary evidence, today by the same hitherto secret Allied headquarters section which yesterday disclosed the story of an American flier's beheading by a Japanese naval interpreter and announced the identity of the Japanese soldier who chopped off the head of a shackled Australian aviator.

Captured papers of the Japanese army showed some of its troops were convicted of eating their own dead and were executed. The papers called this "the worst possible crime against humanity."

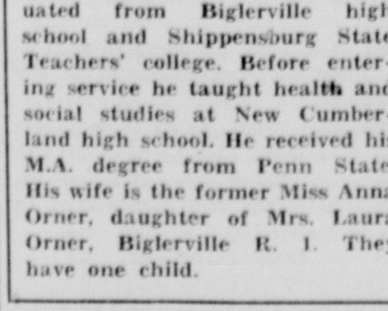

This was the first official confirmation of cannibalism among Japanese troops, which had been reported sketchily from several fronts during the war.

The evidence was found among thousands of documents about Japanese military operations, personnel and atrocities, seized by a U. S. Army unit whose existence was undisclosed until yesterday.

Here is part of an order issued November 18, 1944, to the Japanese

"BOOK DRIVE"
HERE MONDAY

Next week is Book Drive Week in Adams county.

The Adams County Free Library, which until recently has had to ask prospective donors to delay their gifts for lack of a place to store the books, now is ready to receive donations of books and magazines at its headquarters at 135 Carlisle street, Miss Kathryn Oiler, county librarian, has announced.

A special appeal for donations of books is being made from October 15 to 20 with Gettysburg residents being asked to take the books to the library which is open daily from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 5 p. m.

Residents of other county communities are asked to collect their books in a central place for each area and then notify the librarian who will arrange to have them brought to Gettysburg.

Miss Oiler urged that gifts of books be made "with no strings attached." She will select the volumes suitable and usable for the library and the others will be sold for salvage with the money received going for the purchase of new books.

Open To Countians

One means of donating books to the library already used by several persons has been to direct Miss Oiler to order needed books and send them the bill. Required books not received through donations will have to be purchased, Miss Oiler pointed out.

All books will go into the central collection at Gettysburg and from here will be available to every man, woman and child in the county by delivery with a bookmobile or by mail.

Miss Oiler also is eager to find persons who are willing to turn over to the library their current magazines as rapidly as they are finished with them, either weekly or monthly.

Suggests Types Of Books

Types of books particularly sought in the Book Drive have been listed as follows by Miss Oiler:

Encyclopedias, not too old. Dictionaries, both abridged and unabridged.

Light fiction to heavy fiction, both old novels and present day best sellers will be most acceptable.

Books of biography, travel, old and new.

Children's books. Technical books and scientific books, not too old (past five years).

World Almanac, one or two years old and other "quick reference" books of that nature.

Classics—good, readable editions. An unlimited number of these can be used.

An unlimited number of magazines can be used. When a complete magazine file is established for the county library for reference, the others will be turned over to the deposit stations and schools throughout the county.

Miss Oiler listed these magazines as being typical of the kinds desired:

Life, Reader's Digest, Atlantic Monthly, Saturday Evening Post, Time, Newsweek, U. S. News, McCall's, Ladies Home Journal, Good Housekeeping, Christian Century, Fortune, Harpers, Children's (Children's Activities, Jack and Jill, Wee Wisdom, American Girl, American Boy; no comic books, however), National Geographic, etc.

THOMAS GIVEN
SERVICE PIN

Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Adams County War Finance Committee, was presented with a "recognition pin" for his services in war bond drives since the inception of the campaigns, at the dinner-meeting of the State War Finance Committees of the "All-Star Eleven" counties in this region Friday evening. The other county chairmen received similar pins.

Mr. Thomas headed a delegation of fifteen countians to the dinner-meeting in the Penn-Harris hotel, Harrisburg, where Lt. Col. Gregory Boyington, Yankee Marine flier who downed 28 Jap planes and then served fourteen months in Japanese prison camps, was the principal speaker.

Awarding the "recognition pin" came as a surprise to Mr. Thomas. He is the only county chairman in the "all-star eleven" who has served in that capacity since the bond drives started. He also is one of the few chairmen in the state who have served continuously throughout the campaigns.

Adams county is one of the counties in the state which exceeded every war bond quota.

Jap Cabinet
Takes Action
To Carry Out
Allied Order

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, Oct. 13 (AP)—Premier Shidehara's "crisis" cabinet took its first step today toward meeting General MacArthur's dictate that the Japanese government be made the servant rather than the master of the people.

In the face of rank skepticism of Nipponese liberals, the cabinet in its second extraordinary session in two days, approved for submission to the diet measures granting votes to women and lowering the voting age from 25 to 20 years.

In a move to comply with the Allied commander's order for freedom of speech and thought, the cabinet dismissed 4,800 political (thought control) police and abolished, effective Monday, the 18-year-old law under which they had arrested some 60,000 political offenders, mostly left wing liberals.

General MacArthur gave his directive for sweeping social and political reforms—changes necessitating revision of Japan's constitution for the first time in more than half a century—to Shidehara only Thursday, but already one draft of revisions was reported to have been finished.

Constitution Changes

The newspaper Asahi said Prince Konoye, Royal career statesman and a recent addition to Emperor Hirohito's innermost circle of advisers, had presented a draft of proposed revisions to the emperor.

Sources close to Konoye said his efforts would strengthen the power of the diet without markedly decreasing the position of the emperor or altering his current status under the constitution.

These sources quoted Konoye as saying that Hirohito has been "seriously considering" the possibility of abdication, which has been repeatedly rumored here.

The enfranchisement of women was one of five major points which MacArthur stressed in his directive for social reform, but no mention of lowering the voting age was made then.

The newspaper Mainichi said that according to a 1942 census there would be 21,600,000 women eligible to vote after the Diet approved the two measures, a process necessary to their becoming law.

Rush Diet Action

Asahi estimated the lowered voting age would increase the number of male voters from 21,230,000 to 42,920,000.

Newspapers predicted that the cabinet's proposed constitutional changes would be completed and submitted to the Privy council for approval, in time to be presented to the special Diet session scheduled for December.

MacArthur's directive called for drastic reforms of Japan's laws to provide for women's suffrage, labor unionization, abolition of oppressive police and the relaxing of industrial monopoly.

While Shidehara's government wrestled with the reform problem, an Allied headquarters spokesman said that Russian, British and Chinese troops will participate with the Americans in the occupation of Japan.

Zones of Occupation

Word of details of the combined occupation is awaited from Washington, said the spokesman for Lt. Gen. Robert K. Sutherland, MacArthur's chief of staff.

"We expect each country will send one division, and after we know the size the supreme commander for the Allied powers will designate the respective zones of occupation," he said.

Japanese Liberals, commenting on the cabinet's deliberations over the constitutional changes, said aristocrats believed it unlikely that aristocrats like Konoye and Shidehara would dare or care to assume responsibility for stripping the emperor of his prerogatives.

Neither would the aristocrats care to advise Hirohito to relinquish any of his ancient privileges, the Liberals said, since it would automatically mean the elimination of their own long-held rights.

OUSTED MAYOR OF COLOGNE IS OLD PRUSSIAN

By DEWITT FACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

From Hamburg, Germany, comes word that the British have dismissed Dr. Konrad Adenauer, mayor of Cologne, for "not enough energy" in carrying out his duties.

Well, well! So old Adenauer was actually holding the office of burgo-master again. No wonder the Prussians cling to the hope that they may make a comeback. They will, too, if they can keep people like him in the fore.

Adenauer is a square-headed Prussian, and exemplifies all the arrogance and dictatorial traits of this "master race." The British have done what they would characterize as "a jolly good job" in throwing him out on his stiff neck, for he certainly has no place in the rehabilitation of Germany along the lines of democratic government.

It isn't that Adenauer can't be efficient (in terms of Prussianism) but he doesn't fit into the picture of a new Germany—or if he does, then the Allies haven't won such a great victory after all. He represents the race which for generations has kept Europe on needles.

I encountered Adenauer in a big way at the end of the last war, when I went into the Rhineland with the British army of occupation. He was burgomaster of Cologne then at the age of 42, which would make him close to 70 now. He received about half a dozen of us war correspondents, and we had a warm session in which I may have mentioned in this column before.

Anyway, to put it on thumbnail, the burgo-master demanded in arrogant gutturals that the Allies rush food and clothing to the Germans. He backed this up with the statement that if supplies didn't arrive promptly he couldn't be responsible for what the people would do. In short, he made a back-handed threat of an uprising against the Allies. Adenauer insolently insisted on knowing why the Allies hadn't acted already, and when I replied that they were too busy taking care of the host of refugees from German-devastated Belgium and northern France, he snarled that it wasn't true there had been such devastation. That got my Scotch up, and I flung the lie back into his red face, while my colleagues backed me up with applause.

He Didn't Worry
The Hamburg dispatch about Adenauer's dismissal says that he was particularly lacking in energy in finding accommodations for homeless civilians. That isn't surprising—for why would a Prussian be worrying about homeless civilians? Back in those days Prussian army officers used to force ordinary "civilians" off the sidewalk, and if the man-in-the-street didn't move fast enough to please the Prussian highness, he got a blow with the flat of a sword.

Sugar Shortage Closing Bakeries

Philadelphia, Oct. 13 (AP) — A "critical" sugar shortage is forcing many bakeries in Philadelphia to close, says Theodore Staab, secretary of the Pennsylvania Bakers' association.

Staab said strikes at two of the city's three sugar refineries caused the shortage.

Bakers who never purchased from the working refinery, he said, are "out of luck and even steady customers must be rationed to spread around the little supply that is available."

Staab said some bakeries have been forced to reduce the sugar content in their goods in order to have enough merchandise to remain open.

EX-PRESIDENT PINS HOPES ON UNCOMMON MAN

Chambersburg, Pa., Oct. 13 (AP) — Former President Herbert C. Hoover said today that this nation's "sure hope of recovery in the moral and spiritual world is the wealth of uncommon men and women among our people."

The last Republican chief executive asserted, in an address prepared for the 75th anniversary celebration of Wilson college, that "despite this curious cult who erect antagonisms to the uncommon man, I am confident it will not confuse our educational institutions" in their development of leaders "in every branch of life from the shop foreman to the President."

"Whoever this political common man is, I want him to have all the unique benefits of the American way of life including full opportunity to rise to leadership," Hoover said.

Only Objection
"The only seriously objectionable part of this dedication of the common man is the implication that mediocrity is an ideal, that the uncommon man is to be discredited or discarded." He told an assembly of educators and students that "one of the humors of sociology" is that "the most recent phase of the revolution in Russia is a frantic search for the uncommon man."

"There is no identity whatever between mediocrity and popular government—although that is what many of our bubble blowers are trying to put over on the American people," Hoover went on. "The essence of our American system is that the best are to be selected for public responsibility and public service. It is also the essence of our economic life, our spiritual life, our educational institutions."

He emphasized American colleges' "great obligation courageously to restore our moral and spiritual losses from the war, to renew our ideals of freedom, to regain our sensitiveness to wrong, and to provide the nation with renewed supply of trained leadership," the ex-President said.

Foundation for Future
"Unless we rebuild this new era on these foundations, it means the war has been lost. It means more. It means that civilization is lost."

In his discussion of moral and spiritual losses through the war Hoover cautioned that retaliatory measures against our enemies "which reduce the economic life of coming generations to the low levels of an agricultural state are neither justice nor good policy" but would "create gigantic cesspools of hate, poverty and conspiracy against the world."

Hoover was introduced by Governor Edward Martin of Pennsylvania as "our great elder statesman" and as "the foremost governmental economist of the world."

Wilson college conferred honorary degrees of doctors of laws upon U. S. Rep. Margaret Chase Smith, of Maine, and Dr. Meta Glass, president of Sweet Briar college. Both spoke last night at a forum on "citizenship for peace."

Fred Little, Handy Man At Letterkenny

(Special To The Times)
Fred Little, 518 York street, is one of the most popular persons working at Letterkenny Ordnance Depot, Chambersburg. He is a friend in need and a pal indeed to every employee who uses typewriters, comptometers, adding machines, and other office machines.

That is because Fred is an office machine repairman. When typewriters go on the bum or when adding machines become snafu'd, it he who goes after them with a tool kit and makes them work. Anything from a complicated computing machine to a stapler can go into his office in Warehouse A at Letterkenny in a sad state of disrepair and come out practically as good as new.

Started As Surveyor
Little—his name is a good indication of his stature—went to Letterkenny as a surveyor in January, 1942. Sometime in April, 1943, he transferred to "Ordnance" as a typewriter surgeon. That's when his troubles began. There wasn't even a typewriter spring on the depot then, much less any of the other myriad of screws, bolts, ratchets, and whatnot that make up a complete machine.

Tools also were lacking, so Fred brought in the kit which he had accumulated. As a matter of fact, he worked as a linotype operator on the Pittsburgh Press and in several other shops; he knows the value of a good kit of tools and plenty of junk boxes filled with hickencloppers to connect the forinstats to the wobbling shafts, baling wire, and flitchgobblers. A repairman like Fred, who makes an elaborate collection of small set screws, springs, and levers, is one who can always find a spare replacement part for any of the many types of machines when it is needed.

"Bent Typewriter"
Around Letterkenny Fred's pet peeve is a bent typewriter. Hardly a one comes in for repair that he doesn't say it's bent after he gives it an inspection. Another gripe is a dirty typewriter. Another is the steno who calls him for a "fourth echelon" maintenance job and finally admits that what she really wants is a ribbon change.

During his nearly three years of repairing business machines at Letterkenny, Fred Little has fixed 5,000 pieces. He is the only specialist of his kind at the Depot.

He was telling a reporter about the 66-mile round trip that he makes to work each day from his home in Gettysburg when somebody brought in another typewriter.

"Look at it," he wailed. We looked at it. It seemed o. k. "It's bent," said Fred.

Truman Concerned Over Atomic Bills

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP) — President Truman reportedly is trying to spur a hesitant Congress along on measures to set up a commission to control atomic energy.

Legislators who have talked to him say the President appeared concerned about the fate of identical bills temporarily stymied in both Houses.

Despite indicated disapproval of Mr. Truman, the Senate Interstate Commerce committee planned action today on a measure by Senator McMahon (D., Conn.) which some members thought might pry the administration's control measure loose from a Senate parliamentary jam.

McMahon has proposed that a special Senate committee of nine members be set up to consider all atomic legislation.

He offered this proposal when Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) failed last week to get the atomic control bill assigned to the Military committee. The Senate got involved in such an argument then it seemed doubtful it would agree to send the administration's bill to any of its regular committees.

Sunbury Bridge Sought By State

Harrisburg, Oct. 13 (AP) — Negotiations to free privately-owned toll bridges over the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg and nearby Clark's Ferry are still stalemated but a move for the state to buy the Sunbury bridge is under way.

John U. Shroyer, secretary of Highways, said Friday "I haven't heard a thing" from the Harrisburg Bridge company and the Peoples Bridge company, owners of the Market street and Walnut street spans in Harrisburg respectively since they rejected state offers to buy July 20.

He added the next move is up to the bridge owners.

At that time, Shroyer disclosed the commonwealth offered $2,750,000 for the Market street bridge while the owners asked $3,128,000; and $250,000 for the Walnut street bridge and the owners asked $1,700,000.

Kill Negro Held For Attack On Girl

Madison, Fla., Oct. 13 (AP)—A young negro under indictment for assault on a five-year-old white girl, was taken from the county jail and shot to death, Sheriff Lonnie Davis reported.

Sheriff Davis said that the negro, Jesse James Payne, was returned to the jail here from the state prison Tuesday for arraignment. He had pleaded innocent to the charges. His case had been scheduled for trial Tuesday.

Gov. Millard Caldwell at Tallahassee said he had received only a "sketchy report" on the affair but would start an immediate investigation.

Arrested July 4 at Monticello, the negro was later removed to the state prison after state highway patrolmen had guarded him from a crowd. The prisoner was wounded at that time during a posse chase.

Chungking, Oct. 13 (AP) — Li Shao Shin, the Communist party secretary-general here, was not assassinated but was slain accidentally by a Chinese corporal, Lt. Gen. Chang Chen, commander of the Chungking gendarmerie, reported Wednesday after an investigation.

Chang's statement to the official Chinese Central News Agency quickly shattered a theory that Li, an ardent Communist once jailed for his political activities, had been assassinated.

IGH GRIDDERS RUBBED 27-0 BY WAYNESBORO

Gettysburg high school's football team suffered its third straight reverse Friday evening when Waynesboro handed the Maroons a 27-0 victory on the Tornado's home field.

ore a large throng of spectators. The Maroons were fortunate the reverse was not higher as Waynesboro's two touchdowns nullified by fumbles and two passes were intercepted in the end zone by receivers.

Highlight of the game was Warner's 75-yard run for a touchdown the first period after intercepting Maroon pass following a minute and a half of play.

Mattingly ran the opening kickoff from the 25 to his own 35-yard line. A pass to Rasmussen was good for a first down on the 46. Hess hit line for four yards and Wolfgang added another. Hess then passed to Rasmussen on the Tornado 40 for another first down. The Maroon drive suddenly blew up when Warner stole a Maroon toss on the air and streaked down field for the score. Dull plunged over the extra point.

Tackling Fails

A few minutes later Waynesboro dived again. Wolfgang returned the kickoff to the 21. After failing to gain the Maroons punted out to the 5. Dull carried the ball three straight times for a first down on the Maroons' 31. Geesaman picked up four yards around right end and then Dull circled right end, shook off a flock of Maroon would-be tacklers, and scampered 27 yards or the tally. Dull failed to convert the point on a line jab.

Another pass interception near the end of the first period set the stage for the third Waynesboro score early in the second quarter. Dull, the outstanding star of the evening, intercepted a pass on the Maroon 47 just before the period break. Upon resumption of play he hit center for a yard. A Waynesboro aerial was then batted down but on the next play Dull broke away and raced 45 yards for a score. He place-kicked the point.

Coach Burger's Blue and Gold lads put on an uninterrupted march of 80 yards for the final touchdown in the third period. Gorman kicked off and the ball went into the end zone. Dull and Geesaman shared honors in the drive with Geesaman finally circling right end from the 9-yard stripe for the tally. Dull again converted on a placement.

Maroons Hold

Midway in the final period Waynesboro reached Gettysburg's 15 but a 15-yard penalty for holding put the Tornado back on the 30 and a little later the Ridinger-men took over on the 23.

Coach Ridinger's lads never threatened after the first minutes of play. In Dull Waynesboro uncorked a back who will cause plenty of trouble for future opponents.

Next Friday Shippensburg high will play here in another Southern Pennsylvania conference game.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—Russian athletes who break world records will receive rewards of from 15,000 to 20,000 rubles—$3,000 to $5,000 at current exchange rates—according to an announcement in Moscow. . . . New Soviet records, of which more than 150 were established this summer, are worth 5,000 to 15,000 rubles each. . . . No wonder the strictly amateur olympic authorities are wondering what will happen if the Soviet Union wants to enter the next world games. . . . Those figures beat even one of Paavo Nurmi's expense accounts.

While the Penn State team was tuning up for today's tussle with Navy, Don Miltenberger, 210-pound end, hit the tackling machine so hard he busted it. . . . Coach Bob Higgins grinned and asked: "Who was that, Hoernschemeyer or Scott?" . . . "Neither," someone shouted, "it was Bob Kelly." . . . "Hope not," replied the other Bob, "let's take care of the Irish."

Mike Scherer, the Giants' young first sacker, is working during the off season as a Miami playground director. . . . 1-2-3-shift: Paul Walker, big Yale end, likely will play right halfback against Columbia today and the Giants' Lou de Filippio, ex-center, has been shifted to the tackle spot he played at Camp Peary last year so that Vic Carroll can play guard. . . .

LAST LAUGH

Army Air Force officers explain that the order for Charley Trippi's discharge may have come because he "is not in a critical category." . . . The term is foreign to Coach Wally Butts, who has 14 backs on his Georgia squad—12 of them freshmen.

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—Have you noticed how many centers are being ballyhooed this football season . . . It could be that the boy in the middle can get attention more easily than other linemen, but so far we've heard of Navy's Dick Scott, current "lineman of the week"; Red Wheeler of Arkansas who drew high praise from his coach, Glen Rose; Ralph Jenkins of Clemson. . . . Then there's Bob McCoy, just a sub at Penn State but possibly the nation's highest-scoring center so far. He intercepted a pass to score a touchdown against Muhlenberg and recovered a fumble for one against Colgate.

Ginger and Marvin Watts put on a brother act for the champion Concord club of the North Carolina state league in 1942. . . . The next year the loop closed down but the Watts boys stuck together to help win Concord the title in the independent victory league. . . . This year the N. S. state league was revived and Ginger and Marvin played for the Landis Millers. They didn't win the pennant, but Landis took the playoff series.

A Navy press release headed "No Over-confidence at Naval Academy" says: "The Midshipmen are now so well scouted by Penn State that it may be necessary to employ a few new plays to come out on the long end of the score."

Promoter Mike Jacobs is offering Bruce Woodcock, the British Empire champion, a match with light-heavyweight champ Gus Lesnevich in December or January. . . . Temple Trounces Bucknell 64 To 0

Philadelphia, Oct. 13 (AP)—Temple university's Owls were still unbeaten and untied today, registering their third straight triumph at the expense of the hapless Bucknell Bisons, 64-0, last night.

Some 17,000 fans saw the Temple tally 10 touchdowns and 4 extra points to steamroller Bucknell and win "the old shoe" trophy—put into perpetual competition by Temple alumni in memory of students of both schools killed in World War II—for the first time.

ARMY PICKED TO TROUNCE WOLVERINES

By TED MEIER

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—Unbeaten Army and once-beaten Michigan clash here today in the top college football game of the day and the smart-money boys have established the West Point Cadets as 27-point favorites.

Upwards of 65,000 are expected to push their way into the Yankee stadium to get their first look at the 1945 West Pointers who have piled up 86 points in their first two games while keeping their own goal line uncrossed. It is the Cadets' first visit to the Big Town since they swamped Notre Dame, 59-0, a year ago.

Always a power in the Western conference and usually at their best when they come east, the Wolverines are expected to provide the first real opposition of the season for the nation's No. 1 ranking eleven. Michigan has won three of four games, losing only to Indiana.

Buckeyes Over Badgers

Another 65,000 turnout is anticipated at Columbus where the Ohio State Buckeyes are rated 20-point favorites to whip Wisconsin in a Western conference struggle.

Navy is considered 40 points better than the Penn State Nittany Lions who the Midshipmen entertain at Annapolis in a meeting of undefeated ellens.

Notre Dame, ranked third nationally behind Army and Navy, similarly is a 40-point favorite to trounce Dartmouth in their inter-sectional contest at South Bend.

Down in the Southern conference where Duke and Wake Forest travel in the leading game, the Blue Devils are given 14 points over the Deacons. In the southeast, Louisiana State is favored by six points over the Texas Aggies while in the southwest, Texas is a 14-point favorite over Oklahoma and Arkansas 13 over Baylor. On the Pacific coast, UCLA is regarded 13 points better than California.

Championship Races At Williams Grove

One of the largest fields of cars and drivers ever to assemble for big car races on a half-mile track will gather Sunday for the running of the Victory Championship races on the Williams Grove Speedway, starting with the trials at noon.

The field of talent will include the nation's leading drivers from throughout the country.

Jimmy Wilburn, Indianapolis, winner of last week's race and the speed pilot who set a new time trials record for the track, heads the list of western stars. Wilburn will again be behind the wheel of the car in which he set the new track record.

Benny Goodman To Play In York

Benny Goodman appears in person with his orchestra, at the Valencia ballroom in York, for a one-night dance engagement next Thursday.

To "heaps" and lovers of more serious music, Benny Goodman is "swing."

The new Goodman combination is bigger than last year, and the famous clarinetist was acclaimed in appearances with the New York Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony and the Budapest String Quartette.

Included in the orchestra is the famous sextette including Red Norvo in the vibraphone, Charlie Queen-er at the piano, Slim Stewart on the bass fiddle, Morey Feld wielding the drum sticks, and Mike Bryan playing the guitar.

Victi Baum was a professional harpist in Germany before she became a novelist.

FOOTBALL STAR IS DISCHARGED

Clearwater, Fla., Oct. 13 (AP)—Civilian Charlie Trippi, declared surplus and released from the Army Air Forces last night with a 41-point rating, expects soon to resume his studies at the University of Georgia where he starred as a backfield ace in 1942.

The former Third Air Force staff sergeant said here last night that he had no comment on charges by Tampa, Fla., newspapers that pressure by Georgia politicians had brought his low-point release.

"I don't have any statement, I've been told not to talk," the 1943 Rose Bowl star said.

To Finish Education

Sleepy-eyed but affable after being awakened by a correspondent for the Tampa Tribune, Trippi said he had made application "to get out" some time ago and that now that he was a civilian again, he planned to finish his education at the University of Georgia.

He said he didn't know exactly when he would reach the school, but thought it would be in the "next two or three days."

At Washington, the War Department said in a brief explanation of the former halfback's release that he had been declared surplus by his commanding officer and that the order for his discharge may have been predicated on the fact that Trippi was not in a "critical category."

Meanwhile, Coach Wallace Butts of the University of Georgia football team expressed himself ready—and eager—to put Trippi into football togs the minute he reported.

Married and the father of a seven-months-old daughter, Trippi lives at Pittston, Pa.

THE WILL TO BE
It was so in early ages and will be while men remain.
Boys must work and study bravely for the wisdom they would gain.
Though today they start with knowledge old-time scholars couldn't know,
They must read the books that hold it and still further strive to go.
Schools and colleges possess it and they freely pass it down,
But they cannot give or sell it to the idlers of the town.
And, the poor boy and the rich boy find the lessons they rehearse.
Ask their price in time and study and are blind to dress or purse.

It was so in the beginning and will be so to the end,
All the worth-while traits of manhood on courageous youth depend.
Wisdom's gained by toil and patience, and ability and skill,
And the traits that mortals honor are the products of the will.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THAT SPIRIT SOMETHING
We like, or we don't like, a person almost upon a first meeting. Why is this? I believe that it is because we all radiate a personal spirit that attracts or does not. Some look upon this as personality, but I like to think of it as a spirit that one throws out.

There are certain people who draw you to them instantly upon meeting. You trust them. You love them. You wish to tie to them. I know many such. So does everyone. The late Walt Mason once wrote an inspiring poem about such a man, whom he called The Welcome Man—whom no one could turn down.

We all carry some sort of spirit about with us everywhere we go. It's a spirit of cheer, of confidence, of faith, of courage. People are uplifted by it. The salesman who has this spirit gets the business. He inspires confidence at once. He creates customers, in the same way as one with this spirit creates friends.

Our ideals, our daily thoughts, our attitude toward life, our heart, clothe this spirit, gave substance to it, and make it a dominant force in our character.

There is such a wealth of understanding, too, to the one who carries about with him a vibrant, wholesome spirit. Such a person is like a sunny day. It does something to everyone, and so does such a person with that spirit something.

You feel like running quickly from a long, gloomy face, because it leads nowhere. Even defeat, sorrow, and dire disaster can't kill the spirit of one imbued with the essence of a victorious life.

Some people call this spirit charm. The name doesn't matter, however. It's having it that counts. Facing things with courage, complaining not at all because of one's lot, and taking advantage of every opportunity for improvement of mind, gives to us all the plain path to this spirit that is so essential to happiness.

Here is an important thought—the more we give out of this spirit the larger it grows and radiates!

Even if you suffer from insomnia be assured that if you drive too near the edge of the road you'll drop off.

Profit By This One

Prize proof of the high cost of minor neglect is contained in the story told to me by a friend who thought nothing of a slight rattle in the front end of his car. One day he lifted the hood, looked about and spied a loose overflow pipe from the radiator top. Lacking a clamp or possibly a bit of solder he told himself that when he had a little more time he would look into the matter. That was a year ago. Tomorrow he's taking the car to the service station to have the radiator taken off and repaired. That loose pipe finally wore a hole in the core!

Right Turns Harder

Did you ever stop to notice that it is easier to go around a left hand curve than one that turns to the right? Turns of the same curvature would seem to be just as easy to take one way as another, but such is not the case. When you turn left you are swinging around the circumference of an imaginary circle, whereas when you are turning right you are nearer its center.

In a drill the man at the end of the line marks time if the line turns his way. You are in somewhat the same position when you are curving to the right in your car. Slow down more for a right hand turn than for a left.

Saved An Overhaul

It certainly pays to look around for an easy way out when trouble stares us in the face. Latest to appreciate this is the reader who was faced with prospects of spending a lot of coin having a new rear main bearing installed in the engine of his car. Oil was working past the bearing and running into the clutch housing—even when the engine wasn't operating. Believing that it pays to get a few opinions this owner took his car to a more philosophical mechanic who began to speculate as to the condition of the breather pipe. And sure enough, upon inspection, the mesh filter in the breather was found to be clogged with dirt. This caused excessive pressure in the crankcase, resulting in forcing oil past the bearing and its oil retainer. Naturally the engine is giving even better oil mileage than before the leakage started.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"We service men get bawled out for so many things in the course of trying to fathom car ills you can't blame us for occasionally feeling like telling customers a thing or two. Chief complaint at the moment concerns owners who fiddle with the car between the time I work on it and when they bring it back with the statement that I didn't do a good job.

"This usually throws me off the track. The other day I did what I thought was a first class job on a carburetor. A week later the owner came back, reporting that everything was as bad as before, or worse. But he didn't tell me that he re-adjusted the idling mixture, reset the choke and gave the acceleration pump arm a longer stroke. When I tackled the job again I was mystified for a half hour until I guessed what he had done to the job. Then I had to undo his own errors before I could get back to my own mistakes."

These May Be Phonies

Some of these book motorists are a thorn in the flesh of many a practical autoist. Recently I received a letter from a reader who wanted to know just how much damage is done to an engine by the increased travel of its pistons when going downhill in second. Some theorist had told him this would wear the engine out rapidly and that it was far better to stay in high gear and wear out the brake linings. Most of us know by this time that such use of the engine is nothing to worry about, but I mention it because it may serve to put us on our guard against falling for a lot of theoretical "savings" that are a long way from the kind you can actually wrap up and take home.

Twins Of Safety

Some idea of how experienced drivers learn to make good use of details can be had from the book of a very capable operator who points to the advantage in the modern custom of using twin tail lights. If the tail lights of the car way up ahead seem to be moving further apart the indications are that its driver is slowing down. As the car pulls farther away the lights naturally look closer together.

Of course it isn't always the movement of the car ahead that accounts for the appearance of the lights. The car ahead may be keeping to a constant speed, whereas the car following may be varying its speed. The experienced driver who watches these details tells of an interesting experience.

One night while driving through unfamiliar country he noticed the tail lights of the car ahead suddenly drawing speed rapidly. He didn't know until then that he was descending a long grade.

When cleaning battery posts with washing soda use a fibre brush, not a wire brush. This may save a fire.

Excessive gassing action when a battery is overcharged causes the active material to pass from the plates and collect at the bottom of the cell. There it is lost.

An oil filter cartridge will stand up longer and do a better job if equipped with a coil spring to prevent it from compressing when soaked with oil and weighed down with (Please Turn to Page 5)

NEW PASSENGER CAR TIRE

COMING SOON! NEW B. F. GOODRICH TIRE THAT OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

THIS isn't a guess. A new kind of tire has been developed, and tests show that it outwears prewar passenger car tires.

It is made of a new kind of synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich—different from the ordinary synthetic rubber in general use by the tire industry. It helps the new tire run cooler—wear better.

The new tire has had more than 2,000 laboratory tests. Taxicab fleets, state police departments and the B. F. Goodrich test fleet have run it 16,800,000 test miles. Not only does it give longer tread wear than prewar tires, but it has more resistance to bruising or damage from accident.

A new, slightly different shaped tread—we call it the "road level" tread—is another feature that means longer wear. Engineers had wished for years to make a tread just slightly flatter. But that more desirable shape always set up strains in the tire body, or "carcass," as it is called. B. F. Goodrich developed an entirely new and stronger carcass that stands all these strains and permits the use of the new flatter, longer-wearing tread.

The tread design is new. It is made up of hundreds of skid-resisting curves for quicker stops, surer starts—safer driving.

In a few weeks these new tires will begin to be produced in large volume, but supplies may be limited for quite a while. We have placed our order, and hope to have our shipment shortly. Watch for our announcement. And in the meantime, take good care of the tires you have—make them last until you can replace them with these new, better B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.

STEEL LOSSES MOUNT DIZZILY DUE TO STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Oct. 13 (AP)—More than half the nation's 400,000 bituminous coal miners were idle today in the supervisory workers three-week-old strike for recognition of their union.

Production loss was officially estimated at more than a million tons daily.

Steel production losses, as a result of the coal shortage, continued to mount dizzily. Other industries were suffering too.

In Washington, Secretary of Labor Schwelb, who has been trying desperately all week to get some sort of agreement between UMW President John L. Lewis and the coal operators, failed to issue his daily statement that a coal truce may be reached in the next 24 hours. The conference was continuing.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation announced 10,000 steelworkers will have been furloughed by next Tuesday. Already 5,000 are idle at Duquesne, Homestead, Braddock and Farrell plants, all in Pittsburgh district.

21 Furnaces Close

Carnegie-Illinois and National Tube company, both U. S. Steel subsidiaries, said 21 of their 29 blast furnaces will be closed by Monday night, and that 74 of their 127 open hearths will be out of production. The C-I Coke Byproducts plant at Clairton, Pa., down to 50 per cent of capacity, will be reduced to 25 per cent Tuesday.

Cutbacks were being planned by other firms including Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation, Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, and Republic Steel corporation.

Danger that Jones and Laughlin's Captive (steel-company-owned) mines would be put out of commission all winter was averted when union pickets today permitted pumps and other maintenance men to reenter the pits. They were barred by pickets Wednesday but the situation eased after Lewis and John A. McAlpin, president of the Mine Bosses' Union, issued messages sternly criticizing such behavior.

West Virginia plants were hit. The Domestic Coke corporation coal by-products plant at Fairmont was operating at 60 per cent of capacity. The DuPont factory at Belle and Westvaco chlorine production installation in South Charleston cut production. The big Barmid Reduction corporation plant in South Charleston suspended output of chemicals Wednesday.

Miners idle totaled more than 200,000 as follows: West Virginia, 90,600; Pennsylvania, 61,033; Kentucky, 27,200; Ohio and Tennessee, 8,000 each, and Indiana, 6,052.

WOMAN SOUGHT FOR ASSAULT

Pittsburgh, Oct. 13 (AP)—Police, seeking a "thin woman in a long coat" in the hammer assault of a housewife, were stymied Thursday when the victim lapsed into a coma which prevented further questioning.

Mrs. Martha Richey, 45, was found lying in the basement of her home on Bryn Mawr road on Tuesday night.

She had been beaten on the head with her own hammer which lay nearby.

Only clue to the assailant was a brief description given by Mrs. Richey, and a pair of horn-rimmed spectacles found beside the injured woman.

From Mrs. Richey's fragmentary statements, police gathered that a woman had come to her door to sell her soap and that they went to the basement for a demonstration. There, the salesman attacked her with a hammer.

Attendants at Mercy hospital said the injured woman made only a few statements, mostly incoherent, before she relapsed into unconsciousness.

Her husband, William H. Richey, an employee of Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation, and daughter, Mary Lou, 18, were reported en route to Pittsburgh.

Richey had been in Kansas City and the daughter at her classes in Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa. Police said nothing was stolen from the home and that neighbors had seen no woman visitor there.

Tests Clutch Drag

A dragging clutch is a forerunner of serious trouble. To obviate the grief which it may entail the wise driver will try an occasional test to make sure that the clutch is behaving properly. He will not wait until he is warned of the dragging by inability to shift into low gear for a quick getaway in some emergency.

The test is made while the car is in operation, and at any point of a level road where traffic is sufficiently light to justify taking a glance at the ammeter. With the car rolling along at any speed it happens to be traveling the driver should press the clutch pedal to the toe-board and remove his foot from the accelerator pedal. The indicator of the ammeter should immediately swing over to the discharge side. If the indicator does not behave in this normal manner then the driven member of the clutch is dragging after the driving member. The clutch should be checked over as soon as possible.

They'd Like To Know

Q. The engine of my car starts well and has plenty of power in second and high, but to start from a standstill in low it dies unless great care is taken when engaging the clutch. It doesn't seem to me that the clutch grabs but merely that the engine stalls. What is your verdict? A. W. S.

A. I think you will find that the trouble is due to the acceleration pump of the carburetor. The engine doesn't get enough gas for a start. Have this pump rebuilt. You need this extra richness of mixture for a start from a standstill.

Q. Every now and again, when traveling on the road, the engine of my car starts to buck and skip. This does not occur when driving around town. I've checked the wiring and carburetor mixture. The valves seem to be in good condition. H. M.

A. This looks like a mild case of vapor lock, that common condition in which fuel will go into vapor form in the lines and block its own flow. The fact that this occurs on the road is a further clue. I would check the cooling system and make sure the ignition is properly advanced. Anything that keeps the engine running cooler will check this.

Q. What can be done when belts wear out prematurely? H. B. E.

A. The belt probably is overloaded by excessive friction in the fan bearing, the generator or the water pump.

Q. I notice that service men break down front-wheel shimmy into two groups: low speed and high. Also I see that there are different causes for the two kinds. Why are there so many more causes of low speed shimmy? B. McL.

A. Actually there are more causes of high speed shimmy because all the causes of low speed shimmy also apply to the high speed variety.

Now Better Nutrition For Your Family From Our
HOMOGENIZED VITAMIN D MILK

You know, of course, that MILK is more than a delicious drink; it is the most valuable of all the foods you buy. For growth and maintenance of vigor and vitality our bodies need proteins, food energy, minerals and vitamins — and MILK provides important amounts of all these essential food factors, except for one. REGULAR MILK CONTAINS LITTLE VITAMIN D.
Our Vitamin D Milk makes up the difference
400 U.S.P. units of "Vitec" Vitamin D are added to our regular whole milk to enable children and adults, alike, to make better use of milk's health-protective calcium and phosphorus. And it's homogenized, too. This means it's more delicious, creamier tasting, more quickly digested. There's cream, better taste—and Vitamin D—in every drop.
Nutritionists recommend that children drink 3 to 4 glasses, adults 2 or more glasses of Vitamin D Milk each day. So, today, start giving your family this better tasting milk that's better for them. Phone, write or tell our route-man to leave it regularly.

CONGRESSMEN FAVOR ACTS ON ANTI-STRIKES

(By The Associated Press)
The country's wave of postwar labor disputes brought Congressional reaction Friday as leaders of both parties went on record favoring new anti-strike legislation.
As new and continuing work stoppages Friday kept the idle acres the country at 452,000, prominent legislators said they favored repeal of the Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes Act which permits strikes if unions vote in favor of them. They said they wanted new legislation which would make labor unions and employers "mutually responsible" for observance of contracts.
Their expressions of sentiment on the strike along the labor front were outlined to a reporter after Rep. Robertson, (D-Va.), in a House speech asserted that "in the face of our desire to help labor, labor is going on strike."

Amend Labor Act
He declared that "if we are to avoid labor friction that may hinder and possibly defeat successful reconversion, the Wagner Labor Relations Act should be amended to provide for mutual responsibility between employees and employers." Later he said repeal of the War Labor Disputes Act and adoption of a "mutually responsible" measure could be provided in a single bill.

Rep. Arends, (R-Ill.), expressed sentiments of many legislators when he said that "Congress and the people both want something done soon to halt strikes." Bills to repeal the Smith-Connally measure already have been introduced in the House.

Meanwhile, in Washington, conciliation conferences to end the critical soft coal strikes remained deadlocked and the government prepared for possible rationing of manufactured gas to industrial users. The bituminous operators and John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers were called back for another session Friday by Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach.

Coal Shortage Serious
As no agreement came over the issue of recognition of Lewis' Foremen's Union, the coal shortages in the six-state strike area became more serious. Nearly 200,000 workers from almost 900 mines have left their jobs since the walkouts started 23 days ago and cold weather in Western Pennsylvania aggravated an already serious situation.

With nearly one half of the nation's 400,000 miners idle, the shortage of coal continued to show operations in the Pittsburgh steel center and cut pig iron production in the Gary-Chicago mills. Thousands of steel workers have been furloughed because of the coal stoppages.
The expanding strikes virtually paralyzed the West Virginia and Pennsylvania coal industry with most of the major mines closed and 85,700 and 60,500 miners, respectively, out of the pits. The dispute also has closed mines in Kentucky, leaving 27,200 idle; Ohio and Tennessee, 8,000 each, and Indiana, 6,000.

YANKEES USED
DEATH PLANES
AGAINST REICH

Pittsburgh, Oct. 13 (AP) — The story of the "death bombers," one of the top American secrets of the war, was revealed Friday by an Associated Press reporter who kept the "hot copy" quiet for more than a year.
The reporter, Franklin Banker, now with the Associated Press bureau in Pittsburgh, obtained the story while serving as a war correspondent in England. The army gave him permission to tell it Friday.
The "death bombers" were pilotless, radio-operated B-17s, crammed so full of deadly explosives they could destroy all enemy personnel and installation over a wide area, Banker said.
Banker saw the weird machines tested at close range in England, "right under the noses of the Germans," he said.

Answer To Buzz-bombs
Banker said the "death bombers" were the brainchild of Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's Eighth Air Force and were developed by the Third Bomber Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Earl E. Partridge.
Experimentation centered in the crack Flying Fortress group of Col. William David, of Calhoun, Ga., formerly University of Georgia football and boxing star.

Banker described the machines as "an answer to the Germans' rockets and buzz-bombs" and "a forerunner of the atomic bomb."
"Because of the great hazard involved," he said, "only volunteers and veteran fliers were assigned to develop the machine. A crash on take-off might have killed everyone at the base. The planes were loaded and flown from a secret and sequestered base to keep loss of life at a minimum. A few pilots were killed in the tests."
"Navy and Marine officers—a rare sight at Army bomber bases in England—lent their skill to the project."
Used Old Ships
"The kamikaze technique later evolved by the Japanese resembled the 'death bomber' idea but no fliers were in the American planes; and

VET HOSPITALS
NEAR BIG CITIES
FOR SPECIALISTS

Washington Oct. 13 (AP) — The Veterans Administration has decided that if the doctors won't go to the veterans hospitals, the hospitals will have to go to the doctors.
Which means, an administration official said today, that more and more of its hospitals will be built in the near big cities, where it is easier to hire specialists part time.

He conceded this will make many members of Congress unhappy.
In the past some of the liveliest behind-the-scenes skirmishing the capitol has seen has been over the question: What town gets the new hospital?

The reason: it has been estimated that a 250-bed veterans hospital may bring in $1,000,000 a year in extra business to a community.
Veterans Administrator Omar N. Bradley and his acting surgeon general, Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley, are worried because:
Need 1,200 Doctors
The Veterans Administration has only 2,327 doctors. It could use another 1,300 right now. Within a couple of years, it will need 5,700 more.
It has 231 dentists. It needs another 300 in the next year.
Worst need: 400 psychiatrists to treat the thousands of veterans who are coming out of this war with ailing minds.
The doctor situation is likely to get worse before it gets better.
Seventeen hundred veterans' doctors are on loan from the army. They'll get discharges soon. Many of these were in the Veterans Administration before the army nabbed them, and they probably will return. But others undoubtedly will go into private practice.

No one in the Veterans Administration is too optimistic about getting sufficient recruits.
The pay isn't too attractive, for one thing. Dentists make $3,640 to $6,020 a year, doctors $3,640 to $8,750.

only worn-out Forts were used for their last, colorful destructive blow at the enemy. The Air Force was loath to use any weapon unless its aiming accuracy was ensured, therefore the 'death bombers' were never employed in any great number.
"A few were dropped on the giant concrete buzz-bomb launching ways the Germans built along the Pas de Calais coast of France. After that, the war rolled so swiftly on to Germany that standard-type bombing filled the bill."

Dissenters Lose
Church Dispute

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 13 (AP) — A dissenting group of church members lost a fight Wednesday to control church property in the Fayette county mountain community of Markleysburg.
Common pleas Judge Russell W. Carr set aside a deed transferring the church and parsonage from the Church of God of Cleveland, Tenn., to the Church of God of Pulaski, Virginia.

The Pulaski church, which withdrew from the mother church because of a doctrinal disagreement, was ordered not to occupy the pulpit or the parsonage at Markleysburg.
Judge Carr held that a local church congregation could not supersede the authority of its denomination and that, therefore, the property belonged to the mother church.

Two Trainmen Are Found Shot To Death

Philadelphia, Oct. 12 (AP) — Two Baltimore and Ohio railroad trainmen were found shot to death in a freight yard early today.

They were Raymond T. Vernier, 47, a brakeman, and Joseph Walum, 60, a car inspector, both of Philadelphia. Each had been shot through the head.

There were no witnesses in the busy freight yard and detectives said they were working on the theory that the men, whose bodies were close together, were killed by someone, possibly a robber, whom they had surprised.

HARBOR STRIKE
CUTS RETURN OF
OVERSEAS VETS

(By The Associated Press)
The nation's strike lines, jammed with around 450,000 workers most of the week, showed no indications of shrinking today but the government still had hopes of ending some of the major labor disputes.

The immediate concern of top ranking federal officials in Washington was to settle the critical walkouts in the soft coal fields in six states and the stoppage of New York longshoremen. These labor disputes accounted for more than one half of the number of workers away from their jobs including more than 200,000 miners.

But in Washington, there was little indication that an agreement was near between bituminous operators and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers Union, as they began their second week of conferences.

Bills Returning Vets

The only report Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach offered after yesterday's session was that the union leaders are "still in the process of arguing" with the operators on the issue of recognition of UMW's Foremen's Union.

Meanwhile, the lack of coal was making heavy inroads in the steel industry. Production fell sharply in many mills as additional furnaces went down and mass layoffs were reported in several steel centers. West Virginia and Pennsylvania were the heaviest hit by the work stoppages, with other mines closed in Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and Indiana.

Another member of President Truman's cabinet, Secretary of War Patterson, stepped into the labor picture. With Vice Admiral Emory S. Land, War Shipping Administrator, as well as Mayor LaGuardia, of New York, they urged the 35,000 to 60,000 striking longshoremen in New York to return to their jobs, and end a 13-day walkout. Patterson and Land told AFL Longshoremen Union officials the work stoppage, which has tied up shipping in the world's busiest harbor, has "materially retarded the return of American troops from Europe."

A spokesman for the insurgent rank and file committee of the union, whose membership has defied back-to-work orders by AFL union officials, said it had rejected LaGuardia's appeal. But, he said Secretary Patterson and Admiral Land had been advised that the strikers were ready to meet with Army representatives or shipowners to work out an effective program for movement of troops.

Nearly 400 ships have been tied up by the strike and Maj. Gen. Clarence Kells, commanding the New York Port of Embarkation said: "Unless some ships leave this port early next week inconvenience and probably hardship may result to our troops abroad."

As the government wrestled with these two major disputes, another front-ranking controversy loomed as a strike ballot petition was filed by the AFL Central States Drivers Council, embracing thousands of workers in at least 12 midwest states. In number of employers involved—3,190—it was one of the biggest strike votes yet requested and if approved the ballot will be taken in 30 days.

In 1691, William and Mary granted letters of patent to Thomas Neale to establish a postal service in the colony. He was to have a monopoly of 21 years, and was authorized to "charge such rates and sums of money as the planters shall agree to give."

No Change In Fishing Rules

Harrisburg, Oct. 13 (AP)—There will be no changes in the rules and regulations for Pennsylvania's fishermen during 1946.

State Fish Commissioner Charles A. French said the Board of Fisheries had fixed the following seasons and limits for the coming year:

Trout, brook, brown and rainbow, April 15 to July 31, creel limit ten for combined species of not less than six inches in size.

Small and large mouth bass, July 1 to November 30, creel limit six for combined species of not less than nine inches in size.

Pike, perch, and pickerel, July 1 to November 30, creel limit six of not less than 12 inches in size.

Muskellunge (western and northern pike) July 1 to November 30, creel limit two of not less than 24 inches in size.

Fishermen were also warned by French that a new 1945 law now limits motorboats to five horsepower when operating in inland waters of the Commonwealth 180 feet or less in width.

3 Killed, 16 Hurt
In Rail Accidents

Pittsburgh, Oct. 13 (AP) — Three persons were killed and 16 hurt, three critically, in two rail accidents in the Pittsburgh area Thursday.

Rocco Pizzillo, 58, of Dawson, a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie worker, was killed when a gasoline-powered truck car on which he was riding collided with a switch engine near Connellsville. Vincent Massini, 59, and Mike Marco, 42, both of Dawson, were taken to Connellsville State hospital, badly hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Du Carmi, 36 and 46, of Pinkeyville, were killed when their auto collided with a Baltimore and Ohio freight train at the Gastonville-Elrami crossing. Their 13-year-old daughter, Rose, seriously injured, was taken to Monongahela Memorial hospital at New Eagle.

HAM OR CHEESE?

Clayton, N. M., Oct. 13 (AP) — The Union county jail is on a cold lunch basis now.

Sheriff Fred Spradlin asked local papers to print a notice that the jailer-cook is out of town and that those who are put in the calaboose will get a restricted diet, because neither he nor the deputy sheriff can cook.
"And," he said, "we don't intend to learn."

TRUMAN CALLS
MANY STRIKES
LITTLE FUSSES

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—President Truman faced spreading mine strikes as well as international problems upon his return to his desk Thursday from a five-day vacation.

He put out the welcome mat for President Juan Antonio Rios of Chile who arrived at the White House at 4 p. m. to be an overnight guest.

Rios issued a statement sharply critical of "governments of force" during a stop at Miami. Chile's closest neighbor is Argentina where Dictator Juan D. Peron is out of a job.

Meanwhile the Senate Foreign Relations Committee again delayed a vote on confirmation of Spruille Braden, former ambassador to Argentina, whom Mr. Truman nominated to be assistant Secretary of State for Latin American affairs.

"Little Troubles"

Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach, to whom the President delegated the task of solving reconversion labor disputes, may visit the White House soon to discuss his efforts to get an agreement from John L. Lewis and soft coal operators to end the mine walkouts.

Mr. Truman outwardly was optimistic over what he called "our little troubles."

Terming them "just a blow-up after a let-down from war," he told an audience at Gilbertsville, Ky., "we still have a few selfish men who think more of their own personal interests than they do of the public welfare."

The Chief Executive did not identify the "few selfish men" in his impromptu remarks which followed a formal speech dedicating the Tennessee Valley Authority's Kentucky dam, but he said:

"They are not going to prevail. You are not going to let them prevail."

He concluded: "Now let's all go home and go to work. Cut out the foolishness and make this country what it ought to be—the greatest nation the sun has ever shown upon."

Bottles were used for the first time in England during the eighteenth century for the purpose of maturing wine.

Penn Freshman On Way To A Record

Philadelphia, Oct. 13 (AP)—Penn's Bob Deuber, lanky 17-year-old freshman who carried the pigskin only seven times as a sub for a gain of 199 yards, may outshine the scoring records of the galloping ghost, Red Grange.

The five-foot 11-inch speedster from Bridgeton, N. J., was named to start at wingback for the Quakers today when the Penns tangle with the Tarheels of North Carolina on Franklin Field.

In Penn's two games Deuber, in seven attempts, raced 199 yards, an average of 28.4 yards per try. He carried three times against Brown, and on each occasion scored a touchdown. Against Dartmouth he raced 54 yards in one of his four ball-carrying jaunts.

The Red and Blue coaches say the youngster is one of the best breakaway backs Penn has had in years. He's not a know-it-all, but he tells the Quaker mentors just when he erred on a play and why.

CHECK MOVES OF SLAIN MAN

Pittsburgh, Oct. 13 (AP)—Detectives, tracing the last movements of 50-year-old Frank M. Amberson before his bullet-pierced body was found yesterday at the gates of Schenley park, today accounted for the merchant's activities up to three hours before he was killed.

Officers said they learned Amberson had driven two youths from Springdale to Chaswick after closing his store Thursday night, accounting for his whereabouts until 11:25 o'clock, when the youths left his car. They said he told them he was going to Fox Chapel where he kept a horse stable.

The body was found on a sidewalk behind Carnegie Institute. Authorities fixed the time of death at about 3 a. m.

A trail of blood led from a clump of bushes where Amberson's snap-brimmed hat was found to the point where he collapsed. He was apparently staggering to his car, parked in Schenley drive.

Police said the car was locked and that a woman's umbrella and handkerchief were found inside. They were checking if the articles belonged to Amberson's wife, Irene, 43, a patient in Citizen's hospital at New Kensington.

ROAD DEATHS
IN STATE UP
50 PER CENT

Harrisburg, Oct. 13 (AP)—A 50.3 per cent jump in the number of Pennsylvania motor traffic fatalities in August practically wiped out a decline in highway deaths reported up to August 1 compared with a like period last year.

The State Bureau of Highway Safety Thursday listed 137 fatalities in August against 86 in the corresponding period of 1944. Highway deaths for eight months this year totaled 749, only seven less than in the same period of previous year.

The bureau, however, noted that one more person was killed in the first half of August than those killed after gasoline rationing restrictions were lifted August 15 with the war's end.

60 Deaths In 14 Days

"During the first 14 days in August there were 60 fatal accidents in which 69 persons were killed and for the last 17 days there were 62 fatal accidents in which 68 persons were killed," the bureau stated.

Asking the question "why this increase" in deaths, the bureau said "the answer is simply this: (A) The operator; haste, speeds greater than existing driving conditions warrant, indifferent and reckless driving; (B) The pedestrian; indifferent and thoughtless walking; (C) The cyclist; indifference, thoughtlessness and the inability to ride a bicycle in traffic safely."

The bureau said its records "do not confirm" the oft-expressed opinion "that old and dilapidated vehicles are the cause of motor vehicle traffic accidents." Twenty-seven of the 140 vehicles involved in August fatal accidents were 1941 models and 24 were made in 1940.

Louisville Beaten
By Newark 10 To 2

Louisville, Oct. 13 (AP)—Handed a 10-2 drubbing here last night in their first little World Series loss, the Louisville Colonels' manager Harry Leibold has indicated George Diehl probably will start against the Newark Bears tonight with hopes of ending the series.

Leading the Bears three to one in the number of series games won, the Newark club manager has not indicated his probable starter.

Opinions Vary On Atom Bomb Action

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—This question confronted the nation today: Is Congress going too slow—or too fast—on atomic energy?

President Truman has been reported anxious over a delay in the Senate on a bill to create a nine-man commission to boss atomic development.

Others are anxious because they think the House is dealing too fast with the same bill. Atomic bomb scientists have asked to be heard.

Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, (D-Calif.), said in a statement that the House Military Committee was "legislating in a spasm of hysteria" because it held only one public hearing on the measure.

Another question before the lawmakers today was Pearl Harbor. The Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee was back in the news again. It met to decide on procedure and hear a preliminary report from its lawyer, William D. Mitchell. He has been studying the existing documents in the case.

Congress itself did not meet today.

PROTECTION

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 13 (AP)—Pres. Manguam, Dallas attorney, found County Criminal Court Judge Joe B. Brown at a cafe and pleaded that a client of his was being held illegally in jail. Judge Brown pulled a paper napkin out of a holder and wrote a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was duly honored by Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker.

Check-Out

A Legitimate Experiment!

Chapter 5
"Come on, Eve," Anne said firmly. "We're going to a movie. Get into your clothes."

"But we haven't washed the dishes," Eve protested, drying her eyes.

"We'll do them later."

They walked the several blocks to the neighborhood movie and the picture they saw did much to brighten and cheer Eve. "But what about later tonight?" Anne thought. "When the lights are out and she's alone with her thoughts." She sighed deeply, knowing there was nothing she or anyone else could do about those long night watches.

Much later, after Eve had gone exhausted to bed, Anne took Rags and wandered out into the night. It was cool and the wrap she wore felt good, but the moonlight was doing magic things to the tangled mysteries of the garden. Once people had come for miles around to marvel at the precision of its planting, but there was to Anne now a greater charm in the profusion of over-grown lavishment. The sounds and smells were muted now, but soon there would be a wild exuberance of fragrance, a deepening in the quality of blossom and perfume as summer laid warming hands on tree and flower.

It was late when she called Rags and went into the house to lie awake beside Eve, hugging to her heart the certainty of her love.

Next morning the big law office where Anne worked was a beehive of activity. In the great outer room where Anne's desk was, secretaries and clerks went back and forth on mysterious errands, while clients sat waiting in the reception room in the rows of chairs provided for them around the walls.

Old Mr. Farham dictated to Anne quite early that morning and there was a brief left over from yesterday to be typed, so that she had plenty to keep her busy. Every time the outer door opened she expected to see Wayne come in as had been his custom all winter. For some time she had not realized that he was inventing excuses to see his uncle so that he might be near her, but Wayne did not long leave her in doubt as to his intentions. Mr. Farham caught on to the ruse, too.

"My nephew seems to have found my office a very attractive place all of a sudden," he had said with his frosty smile, and Anne had blushed and wondered a bit wildly if that were a sign of approval. She had heard a good deal about the popular, spoiled, fated nephew of her boss; that he was an orphan and had been reared by Mr. Farham and his sister, Mrs. Murray McDowell. Anne knew that Mrs. McDowell and Wayne's mother, who were sisters, had married the McDowell brothers, so that they were all doubly related and Mrs. McDowell fairly worshipped Wayne with a sort of possessiveness which, thinking about it now, seemed a bit frightening to Anne.

"She wouldn't ever want to give him up to me," she surmised, coming much nearer the truth than she suspected.

This morning Anne found that she was working with her heart in her throat. Surely Wayne would come in soon. But the morning wore on rapidly and Wayne did not appear.

"He'll be waiting at lunch time," she told herself, and was glad that she had worn her new blue suit with its frilly blouse and tiny flower-laden hat. But she came out of the elevator, through the sunshiny street without a glimpse of Wayne McDowell. She stood there uncertainly for a moment, looking up and down the thoroughfare, then walked dejectedly toward the corner drug store for a sandwich and coke.

There was quite a stir created in the office that afternoon when Major John Lowell came in. Anne could hardly control her disappointment. She tried to still a hundred little doubts that rose in her mind. Wayne had not really meant what he said yesterday! He had been amusing himself! He had not really wanted to be with her as he had assured her! He had let a whole day go by, to say nothing of last evening! Though she had not been at home, had no doubt now that he had not tried to call her! His Aunt Edna had persuaded him not to see Anne again!

Like tantalizing little gremlins these thoughts kept time with her footsteps as she made her way home. At the corner she boarded an east-bound bus and had to stand up all the way. She was crushed and irritable when she reached Mrs. Adams' house.

with a slight limp and bitter, cynical eyes set in a bronzed, not-quite-handsome face.

When Mr. Farham called Anne in to take dictation, Lola Chester grumbled: "Of course you would be the one! Why do you get all the breaks with the men around here?"

"Don't be silly!" Anne retorted a little crustily. "I assure you I'd be more than willing for you to take my place, Lola. I haven't the remotest interest in the gallant major!"

But once inside the inner office, she did glance at the tall figure standing at the window with a slightly heightened interest. Major Lowell was perhaps thirty, or a few years younger. His face was bronzed to the color of his hazel eyes which showed a fine network of wrinkles at the corners. His hair was bronzed, too, with hints of red in its depths, as if his whole body had absorbed some of the copper coloring of tropic isles.

Mr. Farham dictated a deed to some property the major was selling and Anne departed, smiling to think how very uneventful had been her encounter with the fabulous man whose exploits in escaping from a Jap prison camp had stirred the imagination of the nation.

When she came out of the office building at five o'clock Wayne still had not put in an appearance. Anne could hardly control her disappointment. at home, had no doubt now that he had not tried to call her! His Aunt Edna had persuaded him not to see Anne again!

Wednesday

Williams, Bendix, Joan Blondell

Thursday, Friday and Saturday

STRAND THEATRE

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
Robert Young, cast as a young army flyer, and Laraine Day as "the girl," head the cast of "Those Endearing Young Charms," which plays at the Majestic theatre Monday and Tuesday.

WEDNESDAY
"Don Juan Quilligan," 20th Century-Fox's uproarious screen comedy of a great lover who couldn't say "no" to either of two girls and so married both, plays Wednesday at the Majestic theatre.

Starring William Bendix, Joan Blondell and Phil Silvers, the fast-moving, laugh-packed hit features Bendix, who had never won a girl in all his screen career, as one of the greatest lovers of all time.

Bendix is not actually a Lothario or even a true Casanova. But his terrific romantic exploits in sweeping luscious Joan Blondell—and others—off their feet, would put the original Don Juan to shame.

Nearly 27,000 veterans from Europe and about 2,000 Pacific troops are scheduled to arrive today at east and west coast ports aboard some 22 vessels.

George Gershwin. Taking its title from the famed composer's best known work, the film boasts an all-star cast headed by Robert Alda, a newcomer, in the role of Gershwin. Joan Leslie, Alexis Smith, Charles Coburn and many top celebrities of stage and screen—among them Oscar Levant, Paul Whiteman, Hazel Scott, George White, Anne Brown and Tom Patricola—who appear as themselves.

Twenty-nine of Gershwin's compositions, including all of his more serious works, and the most popular of his song hits, provide the picture's musical framework. Eighteen of the compositions receive featured treatment. The remaining eleven are more briefly sketched in time lapse and transition scenes. The compositions used were selected from one hundred and sixty Gershwin works available, and represent the cream of a talent which many critics acknowledge as full-blown genius.
